DESIGN _ FABRIZIO BATONI

"Omnia sunt communia!", tutte le cose sono di tutti: è il grido che si eleva dalle pagine di Qquadro, romanzo di Luther Blissett e che durante la sua lettura mi hanno ispirato nella progettazione della nuova serie. Una forma, la cui determinazione è dettata dall'analisi della funzione a cui è destinata, una forma, la cui realizzazione è dettata dalla scelta delle più idonee tecnologie, una forma "purificata" dove è stata eliminata ogni componente superflua, una forma da cui nasce 'Qquadro' la nuova serie di rubinetti Zazzeri.

"Omnia sunt communia!", everything belongs to everyone: this is the cry coming from the pages of Q, a novel by Luther Blissett, and reading it I was inspired to design this new series. A name Q, which becomes square to recall the shape of this series, which is defined by analyzing the function it is meant for; a shape which is implemented following the choice of the most suitable technologies; a "purified" shape where any redundant component was abolished; a shape "Qquadro" results from, the new series of taps by Zazzeri.
