

SERIE 100

Design Fabrizio Batoni

The new 100 series has been created, designed and realized entirely in Italy, according to the tradition of the Rubinetterie Zazzeri.

This collection offers a wide selection of elements for creating beautiful environments that can be trendy or minimal. The various shapes and finishes available make it possible to match every ambient and furnishing demand: from extended washbasins to mini versions for small spaces; from traditional chromium finishes to hand-brushed steel.

The 100 series was designed to be accessible to a public that is young, dynamic and positive yet still interested in exciting shapes and quality products.

The 100 series is also available with flow limiting aerators to help reduce water consumption.

The new collection introduces two new built-in thermostats: COMPACT (1 and 2 outlets), which have a good value entry level and complete the vast THERMO range with high flow solutions that can be configured according to the number of outlets required.
